

The CEO

Written by Administrator

Tuesday, 15 March 2011 12:46 - Last Updated Tuesday, 15 March 2011 16:54

Kenneth Chibuogwu Gbandi, the CEO of HiBC GmbH Germany was born 42 years ago in Akwkwu Igbo, Delta State, a southeastern town of Nigeria. He graduated in 1992 from university of calabar, a leading first generation university in Nigeria with a BSc. Hons in Geography and Regional Planning majoring in economic geography. There after he had his compulsory one year National Youth Service programme in Auchi in Edo-State Nigeria. On the recommendation of Otaru of Auchi and the ruling council, he received an NYSC merit award for outstanding and innovative services and automatic employment by the then military administrator of Edo state to teach at the Boys Model Secondary School Ewonika Benin, Edo – State as a Geography teacher. After few months he left Nigeria for Germany in 1993.

While at the university of calabar he was the Features Editor GRPSA Press Organization, the vice president and director board of editorial affair University Press Organization CAO, a member of the National Union of Campus Journalist an affiliation of Nigerian Union of Journalists an equivalent of DJU (Deutsche Journalistic Union or DJV (Deutsche journalistic Verband) a position he held until graduation in 1992. He also received an award by his departmental association GRPSA as the best behaved student in the graduating .

In 1999 he was admitted to the University of Hamburg where he took courses in Statistic, Business Law, Business English in addition to German language for foreigners. As a student he worked in various organizations including German Parcel Service Hamburg, German Federal Post Hamburg, ELMO GmbH (Eletro & Gerätmontagen) Hamburg, HKS Elektrotechnik GmbH Hamburg.

The CEO

Written by Administrator

Tuesday, 15 March 2011 12:46 - Last Updated Tuesday, 15 March 2011 16:54

